ESCAPE FROM A CONVENT.

A young lady who was placed a year ago, in the Convent at Nazareth, in Nelson county, Ky., made her escape from the institution, and walked twenty miles through a cold winter day to Mount Washington, in Bullitt county, and was endeavoring to make her way to Louisville, when she was overtaken by the Catholic Priest and induced to return to Washington, where she was protected by the citizens, and placed under the charge of a gentleman, till her brother, who is a resident of Nashville, could be sent for. Some publications have appeared in the Louisville papers, the young lady has addressed the following letter to the Louisville Journal, to correct erroneous statements in relation to the affair:

MOUNT WASHINGTON, March 11, 1856.

HALL TAYLOR, Editor, Ky.

To the Editors of the Louisville Journal:

I notice in this morning's Democrat an article in relation to the escape of a young lady from Nazareth, a Catholic institution near Harpstown, Nelson county, Ky. I hope through your columns to be allowed the privilege of correcting the statement and giving the facts in the case. I am the fugitive spoken of, who escaped from the institution, the corruption of which nothing but Eternity will disclose. I was placed in this institution, Jan. 28, 1856, by my brother, who resides in Nashville, Tenn., and not, as stated, in Virginia; with positive instructions that he did not wish me educated in the principles of the Roman Catholic religion, leaving that discretionary with myself.

While attending school that time I have been subjected to the severest kind of religious discipline, contrary to my own feelings. My reasons for leaving the school are these:— I have been repeatedly confined in a room, 2, 3, and once 5 days at a time, deprived of my allowance of food, for no other reason than that of refusing to go to confession. This and a variety of other punishments have been inflicted from time to time, exhibiting a disposition like anything but that requisite for a student far from home and under the protection of the teachers.

The regulations are such that no letter written by me could inform my friends of my condition. At length, when I determined to make good my escape at the first opportunity, which I effected Feb. 16, at 8 o'clock, p. m., I have been all day in close confinement, I made my escape during prayers. I remained all night in the neighborhood and between 4 and 5 o'clock next morning I listened on foot to beyond the reach of my pursuers. At 2 o'clock I was overtaken by the overseer, on horseback, 2 miles beyond Mt. Washington, on my way to Louisville.

He demanded my return; I protested and told him plainly that I would not go. He then urged me to go back to the Hotel, at Mt. Washington, which I did, being first advised to do so by a gentleman who was accompanying him, assuring me that I should be protected. On the night of the 17th Dr. Mattingly called for me at 12 o'clock, but finding to see him, he remained all night and the next morning urged me to return with him.

To the people of Mt. Washington and particularly to Mr. Hall and family, under whose kind protection I am at present—until the arrival of my brother—I tender my sincere thanks for their kindness and sympathy in my behalf.

The interposition of the inhabitants in my behalf and Dr. Mattingly's demanding me as under his custody, and that my brother resides somewhere in Virginia, are palpable falsehoods.

The statement I have made I affirm and declare, as God is my Judge, to be the truth and nothing but the truth.

Yours with respect,

MARY E. B. MILLER.

NEW ENGLISH MINISTER.—Lord Napier had his first official interview with Mr. Case on Tuesday. It is now supposed from what has transpired that the British Government will promptly assent to the Senate's amendments to the Dallas-Clarendon Treaty, and thus that convention will become the law of the land.

It is expected the further discussion of the subject will be transferred to Washington, to relieve Mr. Dallas from the awkward necessity of backing out of his own agreement.

Lord Napier coincides the respect of those who become acquainted with him by the simplicity and frankness of his address. He is a man of about the middle height; firmly knit, though not stout; dark hair and eyes; a fine, expansive forehead; an open, intelligent countenance and good, clear, full-toned voice. He seems to be a plain, direct, straightforward business man, who will not act with caution, but with simplicity, and his general style may be remarkably designated as gentlemanly.

PROFIT OF COTTON MANUFACTURING AT THE WEST.—A gentleman with limited means began a very small cotton factory, for making yarns and batting in St. Louis, about ten years ago. He has gradually added to his establishment from its profits, till he has now an establishment that consumes thirty five bales of cotton per week. It makes daily 2,500 yards of sheeting—2,400 pounds of yarn—150 pounds of batting—150 pounds of towel—150 pounds of wicking—150 pounds of carpet warp and bagging.

PRODUCTIVE ISLAND.—Lieut. Catesby Ap Roger Jones, an officer on board the United States steamer, frigate Merrimack, writing home to his family from Barbados, under date of the 16th of February, says, in speaking of the productivity of the soil, &c., that the island is twenty-one miles long by fourteen wide; produces annually 50,000 hogheads of sugar, and the land sells at $300 per acre.
